Ag Students Bring Home Many Awards

Future Farmers Take 21 Ribbons at Palatine Sectional Fair

Twenty-one ribbons were won by the 18 boys from the Vocational Agriculture department of Antioch High school who took part in the Sectional Vocational Fair held in Palatine, Ill., Saturday. The boys exhibited poultry, grain, potatoes and corn grown by them in their home projects.

Of the 59 exhibits shown by the Antioch youths, 23 of them received ratings of "excellent," 22 were judged "good," and 14 were "fair." None were rated "poor."

According to C. L. Kuti, vocational agriculture instructor at the Antioch high school, the boys made a remarkable showing against 17 other schools. They were highly commended for their good work in producing and exhibiting their products.

Ribbon Winners

Ribbon winners were as follows: Richard Prince, two second prizes on white Plymouth Rock cock and brown eggs.

Joseph Carney, a first and a fifth on White Plymouth Rocks.

Otto Gussarson, a first and two third prizes on brown eggs and White Rocks.

Lloyd Drom, a first prize White Rock cock bird.

Norman Edwards won two ribbons on White Wyandottes.

Harold Severson, a third ribbon on Barred Rocks, while his brother Robert took a first and a fourth on the same breed.

John Blackman, a first on geese.

Ralph Gussarson, third on potatoes.

Arney Armstrong, a blue ribbon and two third place ribbons with Buff Orpingtons.

Robert Bemis, a third place ribbon on brown eggs.

James Roepenack, a fourth on Rhode Island Reds.

Robert Patrick, a blue ribbon on an exhibit of comb and strawed honey.

Others who had exhibits were Orville Winfield, Glenn Fox, Carl Wurster, Francis Swenson and George Winfield.

From Projects Only

Exhibits shown at the Sectional Vocational fairs held at Elgin in August and at Palatine in November are certified displays produced and owned by students studying vocational agriculture in the high schools of northeastern Illinois.

In the case of cattle, sheep and hogs, the boys must produce pedigrees issued by the national breed associations showing that the animals are registered in the student's name.

All project records are kept in a standardized bookkeeping set issued by the state department. The student must show an itemized account of all expenses and receipts, labor, inventory, interest on investment, rent and so on. Only products from such projects are permitted to be shown.

In a good many cases, student projects are financed by their own organization, the Future Farmers, which maintains a revolving fund to aid students in starting projects. The returns are usually sufficient to repay the money borrowed on notes.

Many times, the premiums won are sufficient to pay notes. An example of this is a case where one student won $22.50 in premiums with a few White Plymouth Rock birds selected from a flock produced from 200 baby chicks for which he paid $17.82.

Each project is closely supervised, records are brought up to date at the end of each month, and exhibits are carefully selected from supervised projects only.

Fate of Russell Is Held by Mixed Jury

The first mixed jury in Cook county history empowered to impose the death penalty is that before which Jack Russell is being tried in federal court in Chicago on a charge of murdering William Scott Hamilton, 23, of Arkansas City, Kansas. Hamilton's body was found near Ringwood early on the morning of July 15. He was believed to have been kidnapped near Pittsburg, Kansas, by Russell, who escaped July 11 from the state prison at McAlester, Okla. Seven women are serving on the Russell trial jury, under the recent Illinois legislation qualifying women for jury duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodell, Crystal Lake, will be here to spend Thanksgiving Day with Mr. Goodell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Goodell.

Donkey Basketball Game Dec. 18 First on Lions Schedule

The donkey basketball game at the high school gymnasium on December 18 is the first definite date to be announced on the local Lions club team's schedule, but many games to be played before this date are being booked by Manager R. G. Holtz.

With a wealth of talent, including last year's team members and some high school alumni players, Manager Holtz and his team are anticipating an even more successful season than that of last year, when the locals more than held their own against some of the best teams in this locality.

With a year's experience behind them and the addition of new talent the Lions have every reason to believe that they will set a new mark in basketball circles in this locality this coming season.

Radio Revision Work in Sheriff's Office Completed

Installation of new equipment and revision of radio facilities in Lake County Sheriff Thomas Kennedy's offices into the most efficient, up-to-date arrangements possible will be completed by the Electrical Reproduction company of Antioch this week, James McMillen, engineer, announced today.

The company has been busy for the past few weeks "streamlining" the radio arrangements in the office so as to provide for a maximum of service to Lake county. With the completion of the work, Lake county is expected to have one of the most up-to-date radio services in the middle west.

Sheriff Kennedy's radio men will be able to start putting the new features of their radio service into use by the end of the week.

Young GOP to Support Lyons

Libertyville Man Endorsed for Governor at Rally

The sales tax as an ostensible means of relief revenue diverted to support a huge political machine was scored by Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville at a banquet and rally held by the Lake County Young Republicans in Waukegan Sunday Evening.

Lyons, who was endorsed unanimously by the gathering as its candidate for governor in the 1940 campaign, declared that if elected his first act would be to "sweep out the payroll army at Springfield which eats sales tax money paid by citizens in the name of charity."

He was introduced by William Marks, of Lake Villa, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee.

Thomas Houston, Republican state congressman from the Tenth Congressional district, and Cong. Ralph E. Church of Evanston were both present at the gathering and gave optimistic predictions on Lyons' success.

Local Delegates William Hattendorf and Homer La Plante were the Antioch delegates to the rally.

Joseph N. Sikes and Charles Stafford attended from Grayslake; Otto Miller and Miss Mary Edith Parke from Barrington; Erwin Seago from Deerfield; Ray Lindroth, Charles E. Twadwell, Jr., Libertyville; Harry M. Rouse, Mundelein; George H. Meyer, Raymond Wagner, Prairie View; Forrest Geary and Miss Bernice Powers, Wauconda.

Delegates were also present from Highland Park, Highwood, Lake Forest, North Chicago, Waukegan, Winthrop Harbor and Zion.

Plans for a gigantic Christmas party to be held at Antioch Township High school Dec. 20 are being made by the student council.

No Gain In War Hysteria, Says Kuebler

Democracy Cause Wouldn't Be Helped by Our Joining In

"We cannot preserve democracy by joining in the hysteria of Europe," Prof. Clark Kuebler of Northwestern university told members of the Antioch Woman's club and their guests at the annual "Men's Night" meeting held Monday evening in the high school auditorium.

About 150 persons listened with interest to Prof. Kuebler's talk on "International Affairs."

Mrs. Thomas F. Hunt, president of the Woman's club, introduced Mrs. Ed F. Vos, program chairman, who in turn introduced the speaker.

Prof. Kuebler is no stranger to Antioch audiences, having spoken here previously.

60 Attend Dinner

Earlier in the evening, Woman's club members and their husbands attended a dinner held by members of the Antioch Civic club and their wives in the Methodist church. The supper was served at 6:30 o'clock by a committee from the Ladies Aid society. Sixty persons were present.

The Civic club members afterward attended the talk in a body.

One of the things wrong with present-day governmental problems here and abroad is that the "best brains" are not always the ones put in the positions of leadership, Prof. Kuebler told his audience.

"Of course we, here, have no quarrel with the German people," he observed. "In my opinion, the trouble with the government there is that the men with the best minds go into the field of music or science—not that of government."

Don't Get Best Men

"In this country we have something of a similar problem—the men with the best minds are frequently attracted most to business or industry."

"England seems to be one of the few where the most able men are drawn into the government service. And that explains why, even when everything seems to be going wrong, England manages to get along all right."

"Far from the day of the democracy being 'through,' we have barely scratched the surface so far as the possibilities and advantages of democratic government are concerned," the speaker declared.

He emphasized the importance of the home and religion in training people, and asserted that "better government begins right here in your own locality."

"How many communities," he asked, "can honestly say that they choose their best men as their leaders?"

Mrs. Hutchins Is Accident Victim Near Millburn

Car Overturns on the Mill Creek Road; Inquest Is Held Here

Mrs. Ann Clore Hutchins, Wadsworth, was killed instantly Sunday afternoon when the convertible coupe she was driving north on the Mill Creek road between Wadsworth and Millburn went out of control and turned over three times.

The automobile was believed to have swerved slightly from the gravel road, striking a large drain pipe.

An inquest held in Antioch by Coroner John L. Taylor that evening, a verdict of accidental death was returned.

Mrs. Hutchins and her husband, John Mitchell Hutchins, recently leased the James Simpson, Jr., estate in Wadsworth and moved there from Chicago, where they had maintained an apartment on Lake Shore drive.

Mrs. Hutchins had apparently left the Simpson estate shortly before 3 p. m. to go to a nearby farm to get her favorite bird dog, preparatory to going on a hunting trip with Mr. Hutchins and Mr. and Mrs. Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Hachmeister, Mmes. Arthur Rosenfeldt, Robert Wilton, Arthur Trieger, Bessie Kaiser, Eva Kaye and John Gaa attended the installation of officers held by the Waukegan chapter last Thursday evening.

Sue to Clear Title on Grass Lake Area Property

Suit to clear title to land in the Grass lake area which they claim to have owned but which was decided by Lake county to the State of Illinois for the Lotus Bed State Park, has been filed in Circuit court in Waukegan by Chester L. Stevens, Charles G. Paddock and Anna Paddock.

Through their attorneys, they claim that they had owned the property and paid taxes through 1935. The assessor's records show the property "exempt" since that year and owned by the state.

Grayslake Man Offers Blood for Sick Child

Russell Ewing, 41, of Grayslake, is one of three persons in the United States said to have recovered from lymphatic leukemia who have volunteered to donate blood for a transfusion in an effort to save the life of seven-year-old Kathryn Felt of Philadelphia.

Doctors believe there is no hope for the child, but in the hope that a transfusion might save her the little girl's mother broadcast a nation-wide plea.

Mrs. Joseph Root, Jr., of Westport, Conn., and Lester Eugene Williams, 12, of Houston, Texas, are two other persons who are said to have suffered and recovered from the unusual disease. Both have offered their help.

McMillen, Savoldi Wrestle to Draw on Charity Card

Large Audience Sees Exciting Program at Waukegan Gym

A wild flurry of action that didn't stop for the referee's announcement provided an extra thrill for the big crowd of spectators as Jim McMillen of Antioch and Joe Savoldi of Notre Dame wound up an hour's fast and furious wrestling with a draw in the Waukegan-North Chicago P. T. A. Milk Fund benefit show Tuesday evening.

The throng that packed the Waukegan High School gymnasium found themselves practically mixed up in the fray several times, for both Savoldi and McMillen were hurled from the ring during some of the wilder moments. And at the end of the bout, when the referee announced the draw, Savoldi made a lunge at McMillen and the fight was on again, in the ring, out, and down among the spectators' chairs, for about 15 minutes before things could be quieted down.

Ruffy Is Winner

The "one and only" Ruffy Silverstein of the aggravating smile and smooth efficiency continued his three years' record of victories with a win over Seeli Samara, former Greco-Roman champion of Ethiopia, in the semi-final.

Johann Bromberg, German ace, and Fritz Krueger put on a close bout in the preliminaries, and the powerful westerner, Mike London, scored a win over Kid Chapman.

Vee-Clare Shop Is Opened Here Saturday

Miss Clarice Whittemore, proprietor of the Vee-Clare shop, which opened Saturday in the site at 900 North Main street formerly occupied by the Vogue shop, is well known to people of Antioch and vicinity through summer visits she has made in the lake region.

Miss Whittemore, with her sister, Lucille, also operates a shop at 3949 Ashland avenue, Chicago, having been located in that place for the past five years.

She has had considerable experience in the clothing business, having worked in Hollywood and Los Angeles as well as in the middle west. Last summer she made her first visit back to Hollywood since leaving there. Miss Whittemore plans to carry a complete line of standard merchandise at the Vee-Clare shop, including women's, girls' and children's wear.

Economy In County Funds Recommended

Finance Chairman Urges Care to Keep Lake Co. on "Cash Basis"

Care with finances will be needed to keep Lake county operating on a cash basis, Supervisor David Van Patten, chairman of the finance committee, has warned the board of supervisors. Only about 80 per cent of the taxes extended for the county were collected, he pointed out.

Tax levies of $215,775 for general county purposes and $210,815 for additional purposes have been adopted by the board. According to Van Patten, these levies are to be reduced to come within the tax rate limits allowed by the law.

If the assessed valuation drops below the estimated $80,000,000, the tax extensions would be $200,000 on the 25-cent rate for general county purposes and $208,000 on the 26-cent rate for additional purposes, Van Patten stated.

Urge Poormasters "Pay Up"

Chairman Leo Fenlon suggested at a meeting of the county board last Wednesday in Waukegan that the townships increase their payments at the county hospital and poor farm, but no action was taken. At present, the townships pay $3 a day for poor patients at the hospital and 80 cents for inmates at the poor farm. The average cost last year for patients at the hospital was reported at $3.40 and at the poor farm 87 cents.

Motions by Supervisor Harold E. Pilliant that the hospital and the poor farm be closed were lost for lack of seconding motions. It was urged by other supervisors that the township poormasters pay their bills for patients at the hospital and the farm promptly, including $7,000 in back charges at the former and $5,000 at the latter.

Appropriations for the hospital, including $100,000 for repairing two buildings and replacing the old 32-bed private sanatorium building, and $25,000 for laying the water mains, totaled $224,000. The tax-levy for the hospital was $60,410.

The county home appropriation was $36,350, including $5,600 for the purchase of the adjoining farm property, and the tax levies were $4,180.

New Autos for Sheriff

The board referred to the purchasing committee the proposal to exchange the five sheriff's automobiles for six new ones. These automobiles, used for highway radio patrol and serving summonses, writs and court notices, have traveled from 50,000 to 100,000 miles each during the year. Bids for 1940 model automobiles, to include allowances for the 1939 model cars now in use by the sheriff's staff, are to be called for by the purchasing committee and returned to the board at the Dec. 12 meeting.

Bids will also be asked for an addressograph for the county treasurer's office. The request for the new equipment also asks for repairing the present machine. Approximately 1-145,000 separate real estate descriptions and names of owners are printed annually by the treasurer's office on the addressograph.

High-Lighting Politics

(By John Randall Page)

WASHINGTON—Hitler still gets most of the headlines, but there is an increasing number of people in Washington who are viewing the march of Stalin as more menacing than that of the German dictator.

On the one hand Hitler is faced with a destructive war which will melt his resources and, even if victorious, leave Germany prostrate for years to come. On the other hand, informed observers are coming more to the view of Ex-President Hoover that Hitler will unquestionably lose to the Allied sea strength in the end and be driven from power. And there is still the third alternative that the forces of opposition in the Reich will overthrow Hitler and restore sanity within Germany.

All of these factors lead to a belief that Nazi Germany is a passing menace destined for destruction in almost any conceivable set of circumstances. The death knell may come at terrific cost to the rest of the world but it seems inevitable.

Stalin, on the other side, is carefully husbanding his resources and spreading the menace of Communism. Thus far he is avoiding the ravages of war. Soviet Russia is committed to the policy of world revolution, and as other nations are weakened by war, Stalin apparently is prepared to step in. Recent exposures throughout the world, as well as by the Dies Committee in the United States, have shown that Communist propaganda is moving full force. Resultantly many Washington observers are turning to the belief that Stalin's Communism is a world danger that will still be present after Hitler has been eliminated.

New Dealers, with their political eyes always wide open, also see in Mr. Stalin something more than a world menace. They view him as a political menace to Mr. Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Three Republican administrations refused to recognize the Russian Soviet. Mr. Hoover, with his world-wide experience, repeatedly rejected overtures to accept Russia into the family of nations. But the New Deal had no more than taken office before a Russian ambassador was welcomed with open arms. Included in the exchange of correspondence was a pledge that Communist propaganda in America would end.

The extent to which this pledge was kept is now an open book. The Dies Committee has presented witness after witness to testify under oath that money has come from Moscow to support the Communist Party here in its efforts to overthrow the government. Communist leaders, who until then had operated under cover because of public opinion against them, suddenly came out of the cellars. They openly supported the New Deal in 1936 elections. One witness before the Dies Committee gave names of a group of Young Communists entertained at the White House. And now Earl Browder, the American leader, has come into the open and demanded the immediate overthrow of the American government.

It is becoming increasingly certain that eventually Mr. Roosevelt will be compelled to admit that he was wrong and that Mr. Hoover was right in not recognizing the Soviet government.

That is the most immediate danger which New Dealers see in the Russian Bear that walks like a wolf.

No Last Frontier

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer)

"Our last frontier is gone," sigh the historians who read the history of America as the pushing forward of the frontier from the Atlantic to the Pacific. That offered to ambition and enterprise a field of unlimited opportunity. And now that we have achieved the conquest of the continent, what are we to do? Are we to lament with Alexander that there are no more worlds to conquer? The westward march of our frontier meant new lands to make fruitful, to plant with wheat and corn or to drive out the buffalo and replace them with domestic cattle. The historians are right—that frontier is no more.

Yet there are other frontiers which are beyond their calculation. These frontiers are not geographical. They are not measured in miles; they are the frontiers of the new sciences which year after year are being advanced from the realm of pure theory and high speculation into actualities. Our old frontier had a definite limit. That limit was reached. But the frontiers of the mind of man have no limits and no measure.

Our great-grandfathers saw steam revolutionize the world. We in our day have seen the marvels of the automobile and the airplane. Have our people come to their Pacific when we say surely that progress is stopped? Not at all. Our genius for invention means new frontiers for us to push forward, great, new, and as yet undreamed of worlds to conquer. We are not a static people. We never have been content to sit down and be satisfied that all has been done that man can do. The great thing in our history has been our inability to stay put. We have been pushing forward to new and larger fields of endeavor. There is and can be for Americans no last frontier.

The Youth in Business

By C. E. Johnston

Dean, Schools of Business

THERE are many rules in every business which new employees will do well to observe. Frequently, these rules are unwritten and even unspoken, yet their observance plays a highly important part in determining the progress of the individual employee. The unwritten laws of a firm often relate to personal conduct and appearance. There are certain things "that one does not do," even things "that one does not wear." The newcomer in a business should be quick to learn these rules and to conform to them. Often the ability to conform to rules that are not of importance in themselves is one of the tests by which the worthwhileness of the youthful employee is judged.

The importance of being friendly and helpful in all your business contacts cannot be too much stressed. The reputation of a business depends largely on what its customers think about the helpfulness of its employees. The young employee, however, has not completed his job when he has made a favorable impression on such of his employer's customers as he meets. Being friendly and helpful to one's fellow employees and even to one's superiors is equally important. The young employee often asks—How can I be helpful to my superior? The answer is—By doing your job so well that it requires little supervision, by relieving the superior of some of the details of his work and, above all, by avoiding getting on the nerves of the superior.

Courtesy

HOW one appreciates courtesy! It may be expressed in one's opening of a door, in a smiling "Thank you," in the gracious doing of a commonplace duty, or in listening with interest to another's views. Courtesy includes deference and respectfulness. Yet, is there not something more than deference and respect involved in genuine courtesy? Indeed there is. It is love for mankind. Henry Drummond, has spoken of courtesy as "love in little things."

If one truly loves, does he not express that love in even his least contact with others—in thoughtfulness for others, in deeds of kindness, in little helpful acts, all of which constitute what we are pleased to call courtesy?

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in her "Miscellaneous Writings," says (p. 250): "Love is not something put upon a shell, to be taken down on rare occasions with sugar-tongs and laid on a rose-leaf. I make strong demands on love, call for active witnesses to prove it, and noble sacrifices and grand achievements as its results." And she also says: "As a human quality, love is more than words; it is the tender, unselfish deed done in secret; the silent, ceaseless prayer; the self-forgetful heart that overflows."

The Apostle Peter admonished thus (1 Peter 3:8, 9): "Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous; not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing."

The dictionary defines "courtesy," in part, as "an act of kindness, or favor, performed with politeness." But what, then, is the source of inherent kindness and consideration?

The real man is not the mortal, so-called man, who may or may not be kind. The man of God's creating is His own image and likeness, as stated in Genesis. And since God is Love, man is the forever expression of Love; hence love and kindness are inherent qualities of the real man.

But one may ask, Why do some persons appear to express much of love, while others seem almost devoid of it, and at times may be even discourteous and disagreeable? May not the logical explanation be that some are allowing man's true being as Love's reflection, to find expression through their thinking and living; while others may have their thoughts so filled with a false sense of evil as real that love and goodness are not manifested through their thinking or living?

True courtesy expresses love. And love consideration expressed to another arouses a kindred response from that one. The writer witnessed an example of this in a crowded streetcar one evening. Two women were standing in the aisle when a seat was vacated. The one who was obviously a worker made no attempt to take the seat, evidently expecting the other to do so. But instead, noting the telltale bag of the domestic servant, the other asked, "Have you been working all day?" to which there was a meek, "Yes, ma'am." "Then you take the seat," was the response. Soon the other was also seated, and when the worker arose to leave the car, she bestowed a most gracious and appreciative smile upon her courteous benefactor.

Is not the test of true culture, which must include courtesy, found in the respect with which one treats others?

All of God's children express equally His infinite love. Hence God loves all, and forever expresses through men His universal goodness and love. All men are in reality the children of God, subject to His love and care. When this is comprehended, one is enabled to look through and beyond the false sense of personality, differences in social standing, education, and race, and to see and love the man of God's creation.

Such a one will always be found manifesting loving thoughtfulness, consideration, and kindness to all, even in the least of human affairs—in that expression of true culture which is known as courtesy. And need we add that he who includes all in his bestowal of courtesy has glimpsed the love which characterizes the real man, who reflects and expresses God, divine, impartial Love?—The Christian Science Monitor.

THE WORKS OF THE MESSIAH

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 8:14-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus of Nazareth... went about doing good.—Acts 10:38.

"Does it work?" Modern man is not impressed by a thing simply because great claims are made for it or it is intricately organized. After all, the important thing is, does it really work? Such a test can be carried to an extreme and the finest and richest things of life be thrown aside because they have no utilitarian value. But in general, the question is a good one, and especially is that true as it is applied to religious systems and philosophies of life. These claim to have power to deliver man from his sin and give him peace and rest. What we want to know is, do they actually do it, not only in the day of health and prosperity, but in the hour of death and devastation? The answer is that every one of them has failed and does fail, with the exception of Christianity, which comes "not in word but in power" (1 Cor. 4:20). In Christianity is found the only real dynamic for daily living.

I. Personal Needs Satisfied (vv. 14-17).

This entire section of the Gospel of Matthew is concerned with miracles. It is interesting to note how many of these events concern personal needs. There is scant comfort to the needy one to speak to him in generalities about a great God who is ready to help people. When I am in need I want to know whether there is any help for me. Jesus healed Peter's mother in the home, and then He went out and healed multitudes in the throng, but in each case it was a personal interest which He took and a personal healing that was received.

Observe also that He met the need of all whether they were sick in body, mind or spirit. Someone may say, "That is all very well, but that took place when He was here on earth." Well, He is here now, working in and through the power of the Holy Spirit and in and through His children. The Lord Jesus Christ daily satisfies every need of His disciples, and often does so in ways which are miraculous in their sight.

II. Sacrificial Service Exemplified (vv. 18-22).

Following Jesus in discipleship is more than speaking sweet words of devotion or of taking part in the carrying out of some public worship ministry. To really follow Him is to "follow one whose vocation is such that there are incessant demands compelling the renunciation of home and the comforts of a settled life. Only the call of God can make one equal to the demands of such a hazardous life" (Edward E. Anderson).

Observe that even the demands which love may present on behalf of an aged father must not be permitted to stand between the disciple and his Lord. There is no thought of unkindness or lack of consideration here, for as our Lord points out, those who are spiritually dead, although still physically alive, may well be called on to care for the physical needs of an aged parent, even in the hour of death, if the Lord Jesus has work for His disciple to do elsewhere.

There is no thought of neglect of the duties of life, but rather of a placing of the Lord first, whatever else may take the second place. The blight upon many a Christian experience is that almost anything else which is of interest is allowed to take first place and the Lord must take second place if He is given any place at all.

III. Divine Power Demonstrated (vv. 23-27).

There are those in the world who are unable to see the workings of God's power in the spiritual realm because they themselves have not been spiritually born again (1 Cor. 2:14). For these the Lord here presented the working of His mighty power in the realm of nature.

Satan, who is "the prince of this world" (John 14:30) had evidently whipped the waves of the sea into a mighty storm, possibly thus hoping to drown Jesus and get rid of his divine adversary, but the Lord Himself speaks in the majesty of His eternal power and we read that "there was a great calm" (v. 26). Even His disciples were strangely astonished that the very "winds and the sea obey Him." Yes, the forces of nature respond to His slightest word. The winds and the sea obey Him. But what is even more wonderful is that the turmoil of a man's soul becomes a great and blessed calm when this holy Lord Jesus speaks the word of peace.

Confused and troubled man or woman who reads these words, will you not now by faith submit yourself to the One who can speak to you, who can meet and satisfy every one of your needs, and who can give you the blessed privilege of sacrificial service on His behalf in a needy world?

Snake Is Found in Body of Cricket

County Farm Commissioner Is Authority for Story.

ROULLARD, CALIF.—This is a fish story—about a snake.

What's more it's backed up by no less an authority than Fred Roullard, Fresno county agricultural commissioner.

Russell Troutner, county supervisor of neighboring Kings county, said he found a snake eight inches long living inside a cricket.

When he told this before a meeting of the board of supervisors, he was quipped unmercifully.

However, Roullard backed him up, explaining that "snakes," or worms, use the cricket and some other animals as a means of livelihood. The adults lay their eggs in water and they become attached to some insect and develop inside their host.

"Sometimes," said Roullard, "it is passed from one host to another, for example a bird would eat a grasshopper containing a snake and continue to live in the bird. At maturity the snake emerges. If its host is an insect its development to the adult stage kills the host. If the snake is near the water when it leaves its host it will live out its life span, otherwise it will die within a few hours."

A nematode of the species gordius—that is the scientific term of this snake, it was explained, sometimes grows to three or four feet long. Troutner has his cricket and the snake in a bottle—to remind people his "fish" story is really a scientific curiosity.

Salvage Indicates Old

Pirate Ship Off Florida

PALM BEACH, FLA.—A sunken vessel off the Palm Beach coast from which a 900-pound cannon was raised is believed to have been a pirate ship of the Seventeenth century.

All wooden parts of the vessel had disappeared, but the iron ballast and iron fittings found in the wreckage lent weight to the theory that the craft flew the black flag.

Capt. Dusty Campbell, who directed salvaging of the gun, said that government ships of that era used lead ballast because it was easier to handle. Merchant boats usually carried boulders for ballast so that they might be jettisoned when cargo was taken on.

But pirate craft usually were outfitted as cheaply as possible, and accordingly used iron for ballast and the fittings were of iron rather than brass.

In the wreck hundreds of iron bars were mingled with a few lead ones. The anchor also was iron.

'Upside Down' Boy, 5,

Is Leading Normal Life

SALT LAKE CITY.—LaMar Warnick, Salt Lake City's "upside down" boy, has passed his fifth birthday. Doctors declared him in excellent health.

"He's as healthy and mischievous as any boy in the neighborhood," his mother, Mrs. J. R. Warnick, declared. "Barring a few colds and the time he skinned his nose, LaMar has lived in perfect health."

Medical authorities were much astounded during a 1936 baby show, when it was discovered LaMar's internal organs were in reversed position. His heart is on the right side, his appendix on the left, his liver and other internal organs reversed. Only his stomach is in normal position.

Cactus Juice Is Used at

Ranches Against Boron

CARPENTERIA, CALIF.—Harmful effects of boron, acid soil and black alkali on orchard trees are being overcome by Carpenteria ranches with the use of cactus juice.

Cactus juice taken from numerous varieties of this desert succulent, mixed with irrigation water run over citrus orchards, is being experimented with in an attempt to counteract deposits of boron in the soil. This alkali enters the tree, often burning the leaves and injuring the tree.

The cactus juice is first mixed with phosphoric acid and the solution costs about $1.50 a gallon. Five gallons of this antidote will treat an acre of soil, according to its proponents.

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23, 1939
"Thanksgiving" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Thursday, Nov. 23.

The Golden Text will be, "Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you" (1 Thessalonians 5: 16-18).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O Give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name; make known his deeds among the people. Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him; talk ye of all his wondrous works" (Psalms 105: 1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech." (P. 3).

Delinquent Boys and Girls in County Cost $83,321 Over 10 Years

A total of $83,321 has been spent by the state for Lake county boys and girls at Illinois correctionary institutions during the last 10 years. Lake county commitments to St. Charles from 1928 to 1938 numbered 87, with a cost of $47,852. During the same period 67 girls were sent to Geneva school at a cost of $35,469.

These figures were compiled in a survey made by the delinquency prevention division of the American Legion's department of public welfare.

Citing them, the Legion has urged that people in each community endeavor to make every boy and girl a good citizen—not merely as a means of saving these sums, but as a wise investment and a substitution of worth and service for tragedies and heartaches.

For the entire state, the survey shows, 10,000 young people were sent to the two institutions, costing the taxpayers $6,015,404 in all.

The meeting was one of a series to be held throughout the two states between now and Jan. 1. The meetings have been called to acquaint people with the purpose and duties of the patrol and to enable patrol officers and advisers to discuss specific local problems. Charles M. Hayes, president of the Motor club states:

"It is important that patrol procedure be standardized all over the country so that the motorist traveling from community to community will know just what to expect when he sees the boy in the white Sam Browne belt on duty at intersections near schools," he declares.

Next Thursday the players will give their first "western" of the season, "The Thundering Herd."

Danger Zones in Possible Air Conquest

Here's how German, French and British bombing planes would go about their errands of destruction, endangering the life of every civilian living in that territory within one of the enemy bombing "circles." From Wilhelmshaven, No. 1, and Mannheim, No. 2, would go German bombers to raid Paris, London and other cities. In retaliation, French fliers would start out from Metz, No. 3, and other bases behind the Maginot line, and British airmen would set out from Harwich, No. 4, on their egg-laying expeditions.

Four Chinese Who Caused a World Crisis

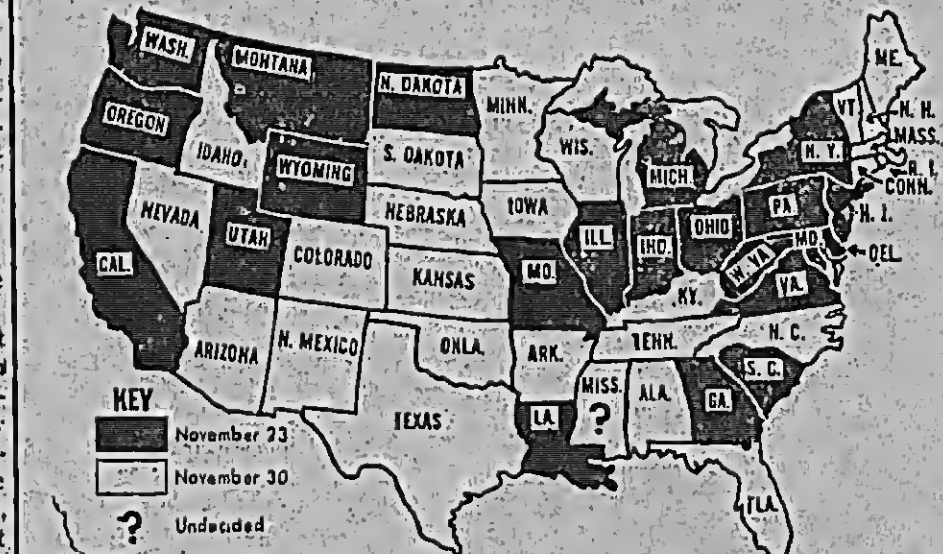

Here are the four Chinese whose alleged murder of a Jap puppet official at Tientsin, China, several months ago precipitated Japanese demands that Great Britain recognize the "new order" in China. British Jap conferences in Tokyo, started as a result of the incident, are still continuing and the four prisoners are shown being removed from British to Japanese custody, one of the points on which the British capitulated.

Divided response was accorded President Roosevelt's action in setting Thanksgiving a week ahead. Twenty-two states will celebrate on November 23, the new date; 24 will celebrate traditionally on November 30; Texas will have two Thanksgivings and Mississippi was undecided.

Nov. 18—The Waukegan Safety Council today expressed itself opposed to the lay-off of four policemen and two firemen. The council is deadlocked 50-50, however, in a vote on taking immediate action to sponsor a mill and one-half tax levy as a means for raising funds for the support of city finances.

Nov. 18—The 1939 Y. M. C. A. current expense drive, which has $14,950 as its goal, is expected to be successful by tomorrow evening, when it will close.

Indirect Taxes in Clothes Bill Produce $194,085

Indirect taxes buried in the cost of clothing sold in Lake county's apparel stores last year produced an estimated $194,085 for local, state and national governments, the National Consumers Tax commission reported today.

"This tremendous burden of hidden taxes was paid by unsuspecting shoppers as unseen parts of their apparel purchases," Mrs. Melville Muckelstone, president of the NCTC, stated in the report. "These are taxes against producers, manufacturers, shippers and distributors which, of necessity, must be passed along to the consumer. Studies at our Chicago headquarters show hidden taxes take nearly 10 per cent of clothing costs."

Mrs. Muckelstone, leader in the Commission's nation-wide campaign to "arouse tax consciousness and to oppose consumer-penalizing taxes," pointed out the taxes refer to clothing sales in apparel stores only and do not include clothing sales in department and general stores.

The study was made public through Mrs. Franklin M. Miller, of Chicago, national committee member, who heads the NCTC educational program in Illinois. Groups in approximately 5,100 cities and towns throughout the country are active in the tax education program.

The clothing tax figure was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 apparel store sales in the county at $2,043,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC pointed out.

Long Way to Tipperary
William Boister, who has more miles to his credit than any other postal worker in the Irish Free State, has retired on a pension. As he made his rounds in Roserea, he often sang the famous war song: "It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary," where he has walked a long way without leaving home. In his 42 years of service he has traveled a distance equal to 12 times around the globe, and has delivered about 12,600,000 letters.

Divorce in Canada
The steady increase of divorce in Canada is attracting the attention of sociologists and statisticians of the Dominion. The figures steadily mount. In 1918, there were only 114 divorces in all the country. In 1928, the figure had risen to 783 and in 1938, to 1,883.

The ninth conflagration in Waukegan since Sept. 22 attributed to incendiaries destroyed the historic Congregational church early Sunday morning. The loss was estimated at nearly $30,000. Total damage from the fires is supposed to be more than $60,000.

A drive to raise funds for re-building the church has already been started.

As in the eight other arson cases, the fire was believed to have been started from the outside of the building, possibly from an inflammable fluid.

Seven firemen narrowly escaped death when the roof of the building collapsed. Several others were injured while battling the flames and endeavoring to keep them from spreading to other buildings. Gurnee and North Chicago fire departments were called in to help, and citizens also aided.

The Hussey Lumber company, where damage was set at $20,000; the Spero Motor company, the Simmons Feed company, the Ferry upholstery company, the residence of James C. O'Shea and two unoccupied buildings are also believed to have been the targets of the supposed pyromaniac.

Aged Recluse Marks His Own Grave Before Death

MITCHELL, IND.—Eberle Martin, 72-year-old recluse, prepared for death.

His grave already has been marked with an eight-foot monument, designed just the way Martin wanted it.

The shaft has been erected in Mitchell cemetery and bears Martin's picture, inscriptions, a powder horn and musket and other carvings.

Martin designed his monument when he read of Wade Millman, who died in Indianapolis recently. Millman preached his own funeral several years ago and built his own casket.

"I had the monument made the way I wanted it," the 72-year-old recluse said, "because there would be no one to do it for me after I'm buried."

BOSTON.—Pulling up at a Back Bay intersection in answer to a citizen's alarm, Patrolman Michael Murphy and William Haggerty leaped from the squad car ready for any emergency.

They found Mrs. Julia Clark wondering what to do about a broken wheel on her baby carriage. The officers called a patrol wagon which took the carriage to a near-by welding plant. The mother and her two children followed in the cruising car.

Angler Drops His Watch

And Pickered Swallows It

WINSTED, CONN.—Better than the "one that got away," is the fish story told by Torrington Police Chief Hugh Meade.

While fly-casting for pickerel at Highland lake, Meade's wrist watch dropped into the water. The fish, which was about to take the bait, darted after the watch and carried it off.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

U. S. Ships May Be Registered Under European Neutral Flags In Effort to Circumvent Law

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

MARITIME:
Neutrality

Having fought for and having won "cash and carry" neutrality, the United States promptly sought ways to circumvent it. While American vessels and seamen loafed along the waterfronts, crafty minds were thinking up at least two ways of maintaining maritime traffic despite neutrality: (1) chartering foreign ships, a perfectly legal method used by Black Diamond Lines, Inc.; (2) registering U. S. ships with other nations, also legal but carrying a few potentially unpleasant implications.

MINISTER BRENNAN

With its next meeting still a week away, the maritime commission was almost certain to refuse requests for transfer of some 90 U. S. vessels to Central or South American registry. When the idea was first broached, President Roosevelt supported it. Later, after getting a lecture from Secretary of State Cordell Hull, he told reporters that the more he thought about it, the more convinced he became that it wasn't right. Reason: It would place sister American republics in a neutrality position different from our own.

Loud as the complaints of American ship owners were those of lesser European neutrals whose thriving U. S. commerce was stopped by the neutrality law. Two loudest objectors were Eire and Belgium. The former sent its minister, Robert Brennan, to tell the state department that Eire should be excluded from the "combat zone" because she is neutral and will remain so; because Eire needs U. S. products; because Eire doesn't believe U. S. ships would be endangered visiting her ports. Belgium sent her Ambassador Count Robert Van Der Straten-Ponthoz to inquire about transferring U. S. ships to Belgian registry.

Certainly, commented the President, objections to Latin-American transfers wouldn't prevail in the case of European neutrals like Ireland. It was a pretty safe guess, therefore, that U. S. ships may soon sail under European flags.

EUROPE:
The War

Gone like sudden sunshine on a cloudy day was the Belgian-Dutch effort to make peace between Hitler and the allies. And after the sun came threats of rain, for it ended the last hope of armistice. There was still much saber rattling, such as Winston Churchill's speech calling Der Fuehrer a "cornered maniac," but the foes were ready to start slaughtering.

Sea and air warfare went ahead precipitously. One day Berlin announced (by inference) that henceforth all British-French merchantmen would be torpedoed. Reason: They're all armed. Next day, after a successful but pointless air attack on the Shetland islands, Berlin warned it would "show the British what it means to be at war with Germany." In 72 hours 11 ships were sunk, one a British destroyer. Britain, for her part, sank two Nazi merchantmen and a U-boat.

The week's most thought-provoking news dispatch came from John T. Whitaker of the Chicago Daily News, who cabled from Rome that Der Fuehrer's position looked desperate. Said Whitaker: Hitler had indecisively retreated after mauling troops on the Belgian-Dutch frontier; he can pierce the Maginot line only by wasting a million men; he can't break the British blockade; Scandinavia opposes him, and a strike at the Balkans will bring down the wrath of Russia and Italy, each of which "has his measure." Conclusion: "He finds, for the first time . . . that the cards are not stacked against his immediate foe. And as he delays, confusion and defeatism are inevitable at home . . ."

Finlandia

Leaving Moscow without customary diplomatic formalities, Finnish conferees returned to Helsinki where awaiting officials already knew they had refused to grant Russian demands. Immediately the Soviet press began a withering anti-Finnish campaign which could only be a prelude to armed action. First, Moscow's Pravda claimed Finland was on the brink of economic ruin, but Helsinki's quietly replied the Finns could get along. Next, the Soviet news agency, Tass, accused Finnish ruling circles of fostering anti-Russian policy. Helsinki's answered by announcing there would be no resumption of conversations.

CRIME:

O'Hare-Capone

Who killed Cock Robin was never a greater mystery than who killed Edward J. O'Hare, Chicago race-track owner whose assassination in early November set off the biggest gangland witchhunt since Alphonse Capone went to prison in 1932. Reasons: The murder came just before Capone was released, and O'Hare was known to have associations with Capone. Two theories to date:

(1) That O'Hare, as interim manager of the Capone gambling syndicate, was "rubbed out" because he refused to turn back the reins when "Scarface Al" was to be released.

(2) That O'Hare was slain by disaffected Capone mobsters who feared he would return the reins to Scarface Al.

The deeper federal and city investigators probed the mystery, the more complex it became. The more embarrassing, too, especially for one Judge Eugene J. Holland of Chicago municipal court, who was associated with O'Hare in a real estate enterprise. Officials wondered if there could be any connection between this and the fact that only 28 of the 12,624 Chicago gambling cases handled by Judge Holland in the past 15 months had resulted in convictions.

Two days before Capone's mysterious release in Philadelphia, a 21-year-old named Russell Stoddard was held by Los Angeles police after a mysterious stabbing. Not only did he claim to be a former O'Hare bodyguard, but officials found in his possessions a letter indicating that Stoddard knew who killed O'Hare.

COURTS:

5 to 4

Only two years have passed since Franklin Roosevelt sent the senate his first nominee to the Supreme court—Alabama's Sen. Hugo L. Black. Since then, one by one, have come Liberal Stanley Reed, Liberal Felix Frankfurter and Liberal Bill Douglas. With only four Roosevelt appointees, the nine-man court was still theoretically anti-New Deal.

This month died Justice Pierce Butler, 73-year-old conservative, a Catholic from Minnesota. When his successor is named, the New Deal will have an undisputed liberal majority which will last at least on other generation. Among possible successors observers listed another midwest Catholic, Michigan's Frank Murphy.

NEWS QUIZ

Know your news? Each of the following questions counts 20. Score: 100, excellent; 80, good; 60, average; 40, poor; 20 or 0, tsk! tsk!

1. Arrow on above map points to Lagunillas, Venezuela. It was in the news because: (A) the new U. S.-Venezuela trade pact was signed there; (B) 500 were killed in a fire; (C) a two-headed baby was born there.

2. The Neva river, running through Leningrad, Russia, overflowed its banks although no dams or dykes were broken, and no rain fell. Russia blamed Finland. Why?

3. Thousands of trees uprooted in the 1938 New England blizzard have just been disposed of. How?

4. What former senator from California recently boomed President Roosevelt for a third term?

5. Prince Frederik Wilhelm, youngest son of the former German crown prince, was reported to be: (A) beheaded as an anti-Nazi plotter; (B) bludgeoned by Adolf Hitler's successor; (C) killed at the western front.

(Answers at bottom of column.)

CONGRESS:

Annuities

Exempted from social security are some 10,000,000 self-employed persons, agricultural workers and domestics, who thus receive no retirement income at age 65. Also exempted are minor groups like seamen. At the next congressional session, announced New York's Sen. Robert Wagner, he will introduce a government-sponsored voluntary annuity plan whereby anyone making the necessary payments can buy an annuity paying $1,200 a year at age 60 or 65, i. e., $100 a month. The chief Wagner argument: That such annuities can be handled by the U. S. at a substantially lower cost than private insurance companies. A high insurance executive, he said, had raised no objection to the plan.

SENATOR WAGNER

Nevertheless, critics got to work immediately. Though admitting private firms now make a substantial profit, it was asserted the U. S. must use the same mortality tables and can therefore save no more than an approximate 2.1 per cent agent's commission on its annuities.

Tax Fight

Tax revision may be No. 1 on the congressional agenda January 3. A hint that not even the administration knows what to do about it, appeared when Acting Secretary of the Treasury John W. Hanes criticized the proposal of Marriner S. Eccles, federal reserve chairman, to adopt higher taxes and thus pay for next year's fiscal deficit. Commented Mr. Hanes: "I don't think he spoke for the administration. . . I doubt if he spoke for congress."

INDUSTRY:

Man With Stick

When the justice department's Trust Buster Thurman Arnold shows his face, any well-trained industrialist rushes to get his books in order. Thus far Mr. Arnold's big stick has struck at the railroads, movies, building industry, aluminum, medicine and many a lesser trade or profession. This month he struck again:

At Los Angeles a federal grand jury indicted 41 major and secondary oil companies and two associations on charges of conspiring to raise artificially and maintain gasoline prices on the Pacific coast (Oregon, Washington, California, Arizona and Nevada). In this region, says the indictment, the defendants control 95 per cent of gasoline sales.

News Quiz Answers

- (B) is correct. One of Lagunillas' major oil terminals exploded.
- "Because of winds from Finland" was the Soviet explanation, which charged Finland with failure to inform Russia of meteorological conditions.
- Sold for $14,400,000 to a lumber wholesaler's co-operative.
- William Gibbs McAdoo.
- (A) is correct. The report was later denied.

Family of William Penn Had Military Background

Strange as it may seem, William Penn came from a military family and in his youth was not averse to drawing a sword himself when the occasion warranted it. His father, for whom he was named, was the doughty and valiant Admiral William Penn, who joined his sea-minded father and was a captain before he was 21. He later became a rear admiral and vice admiral of Ireland and, in 1652, vice admiral of England. He was an English general in the First Dutch war, chosen a great captain commander under the duke of York, who afterwards became James the Second, says the National Republic.

The future proprietor of Pennsylvania, with such a naval and military background, was born in London, October 14, 1644. His youth was not unlike that of other English boys in a similar station of life, but he possessed a strong religious streak which his militant father could not understand. He had inherited it from his gentle mother, who was the daughter of a rich Rotterdam merchant, and this parent understood, if she did not strongly encourage, the religious side of his nature.

Young Penn started his education as a boy in the English school at Chigwell and then entered a private school in London. When the family went to Ireland, because of his father's duties there, William studied under a private tutor as was deemed proper for a youth of his rank. Later he entered Christ Church college in Oxford, where he made the acquaintance of Robert Spencer and John Locke, who were to be his friends in later life.

In his studies the future colonist specialized in history and theology, but he did not neglect the languages. He was proficient in the classics, and also in modern French, Dutch and Italian. During his career in Oxford young Penn heard Thomas Lee preach. Lee was a follower of George Fox and an eloquent and persuasive talker. The religious side of the youth immediately became uppermost and the zeal of reform burned within him.

New York's Sag Harbor Was Indian Village Site

When white men settled on Long Island in 1640 the site of the present Sag harbor was an Indian village Wegwagoneck, meaning at the foot of the hill. The English colonists first called the place Great Meadows. The settlers of Sag, or Sagaponack, needed a landing. Roads were cut through the forest from Sag, five miles to the south, leading to Great Meadows. For many years the place was known as "the harbor of Sag" and the first known mention of this new port of Sag harbor was made in 1707.

Sag harbor was once a great whaling port. Today it combines the old with the new. There are fine schools and churches, one of which, the Presbyterian, is known as the "Whalers church." A library built and endowed by Mrs. Russell Sage in memory of her grandfather, Maj. John Jermain, and a park also given by Mrs. Sage, are among the harbor's attractions.

Sag harbor has all the facilities for yachtsmen. The harbor has just been dredged by the federal government to a channel depth of 18 feet.

Serbian Death Syndicate

Activities of the "death syndicate" discovered at Pozhorevatz, Serbia, have been gradually revealed following the arrest of 16 peasants accused of poisoning many of their relatives, during the last three years. The first arrests netted Stanka Penonitche and her husband at Krepolyn, where the authorities have been puzzled by a number of deaths. The police charge that the couple converted their home into a store of the most deadly poisons. Arsenic, snake venom, roots of poisonous plants and ground glass were sold with a guarantee to kill at $10 a dose.

Tree Stumps Used

The tree stumps which constitute the "feed" for the steam and solvent wood naval stores industry are found in the vast cut-over lands of Mississippi, Georgia, and Florida. These remnants of lumbering are not useful until 10 to 15 years after cutting. By that time, the bark has sloughed off, leaving the heartwood in which the resinous material is concentrated. Originally stumps were pulled by mule-power or blasted with dynamite. Now they are pulled by large tractors adapted to the job, split and trimmed, and loaded on trailer trucks which haul them to railheads.

Men Teachers Decrease

After having comprised 32 per cent of the nation's school teachers in 1900, men now make up 25 per cent (200,000) of the teachers. According to a government survey made public recently, this is an increase of 7 per cent over the 1920 figure. Also brought out was the fact that Latin, French and Spanish are losing ground in high schools. It was pointed out that in 1900 one out of two students studied Latin; today only four out of every 25 study it. Most popular subjects listed were English and mathematics.

Safety Note: Why Not Camouflage It?

When air-raid sirens blare out their warnings to take cover, Londoners will do exactly that. They will grab the new bed comforter and seram for the bomb-proof shelter. The coverlet is shown at left as a comforter. At right, the quilt as it is transformed into a warm, comfortable garment.

Chinese Puppet Meets Jap Puppeteers

Wang Ching Wei, left, latest Chinese puppet with whom the Japanese are attempting to establish a new Chinese government, jokes with two officers of the friendly Japanese staff. Wang has been branded a traitor by countrymen loyal to Chiang Kai-shek, and his life is forfeit should he fall into Chiang's hands.

As Germany Recoups World War Losses

Maps show how Germany's expansion the past five years has created a nation far larger than the Kaiser's pre-war empire. Principal World war losses were Alsace Lorraine, to France; the Polish corridor, Posen and Upper Silesia to Poland; Danzig, which became a free city, and the Rhineland, demilitarized. All but Alsace Lorraine have now been recaptured, although Polish seizures are not recognized and therefore not shown on the 1939 map. Germany has also seized Austria and most of the former Czechoslovakia. Germany is still below her pre-war size, however, because all foreign colonies were confiscated at Versailles.

Nazi War Machine Fords Pontoon Bridge

A German multiple-wheeled military car, also provided with tractors, crosses a pontoon bridge erected by army engineers. This phase of German military preparedness is vitally important to Nazi forces in Poland, where retreating Poles destroyed bridges.

Naval Disaster

Near victim of the sea was Guy C. Avery, (inset) lone navigator who attempted a solo cruise from Tampa, Fla., to Europe in his 18-foot yawl. Avery left Tampa a year ago, and when picked up by an Italian freighter was lost 550 miles west of Gibraltar.

Needlework King

Crochet and embroidery champion of Utah's state fair is Frank Mortensen of Midvale, who, when he isn't knocking off a bit of fancy needlework, is a "mucker" in an ore smelter. Crocheting is his hobby.

Shipwrecks Missing
New Zealand has a shipwrecks society and no shipwrecks. It was disclosed by the Shipwrecks Relief society that money is accumulating in the bank for want of disaster. The society obtains its finances from the shipping companies and the harbor boards of this country, all of which make an annual contribution. Year by year the funds grow larger. Now they stand at $80,000 and are safely invested. This has resulted in the society now receiving more than it spends. The position is regarded with satisfaction by local governments, it seems. Mayor Arthur H. Allen of Dunedin has said: "It is gratifying to know this money has been invested in gilt-edged securities."

"Boosters" Hold Victory Dinner

Party Celebrates Softball Team's Season Score, 33 Games, 23 Wins

Celebrating the Antioch Boosters' triumphant season record of 23 victories out of the 33 games played was a chicken dinner held by members of the team and their wives Monday evening in Thompson's tavern on Main street.

A resume of the season was given by Richard Folbrick. According to Folbrick, the team's record should raise it from its previous "Class B" rating to a "Class A" rating. The latter would enable the players to book games with teams of the highest ranking in the larger cities during the 1940 season.

Team Roster

Robert Madsen, outfielder; Ed Manorian, Waukegan, pitcher; Charles Bergling, Waukegan, pitcher; Leppie Zens, Waukegan, catcher. The "One and Only" Lefty Johnson, pitcher, assisted Carl Nader, outfielder during the season.

Pre-Thanksgiving Parties Favored by Large Attendance

Events advertised in the News last week drew big week-end crowds, according to reports received from the various resorts in this vicinity.

The Turkey Shoot, which has become an annual event at Jim's Place at Grass Lake, drew scores of sportsmen who tried their luck at securing a Thanksgiving turkey. . . . A genuine German Schlacht-fest was featured at the Round-Up, an event somewhat new in this locality. (Schlacht-fest is pig in all its delicious forms) . . . Van's Kings of Rhythm held forth at Adolph's Channel Inn where Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Helm were giving their pre-Thanksgiving party. The complimentary turkey dinner was delicious.

An overflow crowd greeted Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tass at the opening party at the New Palace Inn a mile south of Antioch. Mr. Tass, a newcomer in the community expressed his appreciation for the patronage he received at the opening.

Among the events sponsored by organizations was the Harvest Festival Saturday night at Landrock's at Channel Lake. The dance was sponsored by the Woodcrest Improvement Association. A full-house of merry-makers thoroughly enjoyed the party. A large crowd enjoyed the Thanksgiving eve party held last night under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Sodality at St. Peter's hall. There was modern and old time dancing with the Silver Derbies entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Holrichter, who expect to spend the winter at Cocoa, Florida, have announced that their Old Orchard Inn will be open all winter.

Excerpt from a "heartthrobs column"—"Pioneer men, because their strength and protection were essential, were heroes to the womenfolk." H'm. And here we always thought the pioneer women were too busy being "heroes" themselves to have time for being too much impressed by the menfolk.

There are 38 active organizations in Antioch, Adjutant John Horan of the American Legion post, who has been compiling the Community Calendar, informs us. Now a lot of husbands and wives will know why they don't see each other very often, evening.

In the present state of affairs, we sometimes wonder if sending missionaries to Europe instead of to the heathen wouldn't be in order. The heathen seem to show a certain amount of humanity toward their fellow men.

The Youth in Business

By C. E. Johnston

Dean, Schools of Business International Correspondence Schools

THE production of office equipment is one of the leading industries of the United States. In 1937, the value of the products sold by 108 manufacturers of office equipment was approximately a quarter billion dollars. In these 108 companies there were 45,670 workers in the manufacturing divisions alone. Add to this number, office employees, servicemen, and salesmen, and we find over 160,000 men and women today employed in the manufacture and distribution of office equipment.

American office equipment is known throughout the world. The value of shipments abroad is from one-fourth to one-third of domestic sales. Many of the companies produce office machines have distribution facilities in almost all the nations of the world and manufacturing or assembling plants in a number of foreign countries.

There are opportunities for the youth of today in the office equipment industry. Sales representatives in this industry are more than salesmen. They sell methods, rather than office machines. They serve other businesses by making careful studies of their needs for office equipment, by designing records and developing office systems, and by helping them to obtain the maximum benefits from equipment purchased. Some of the leading companies in the industry provide elaborate training plans for selected young men and women who are expected to become sales representatives and servicemen in the field.

Japanese Synthele Gas. Synthetic gasoline in Japan costs three times the market price of imported gasoline, says Industrial and Engineering Chemistry. The Japanese government subsidizes the synthetic product, the supply of which thus far does not exceed 10,000 gallons a month. Production is slated to be increased by 2,900 per cent within the next three years.

Farm Co-ops. The gross business of farmer-owned purchasing organizations in the United States is estimated at $110,000,000 and the members of the 10,750 co-operative organizations market $2,300,000,000 worth of farm products in an average year.

Russia Trains Women. Young Russian peasant women are being taught to drive tractors and otherwise fit themselves to replace men in the event of an emergency. Thousands of men are undergoing spare time military training.

Blame Dry Weather For Duck Scarcity

Lake Antioch Refuge Is Believed to Have Helped Keep Birds Here

Dry weather which has been leading wild ducks to route their flights by the larger waterways is being blamed by many sportsmen of Antioch and vicinity for the comparatively poor hunting this season.

The duck refuge maintained by the Antioch Rod and Gun club at Lake Antioch is thought to have helped somewhat to alleviate the situation by encouraging the birds to linger in this locality.

Like Illinois Corn

The discovery that wild ducks are attracted to Illinois by the state's corn crop has been reported by the State Natural History survey.

The study of stomach contents of 600 ducks shot in Illinois revealed that natural food plants were second to corn in their diet.

"Without the present agricultural practices, which makes corn readily available to ducks, it is doubtful whether all of the millions of ducks which pass through the valley could have survived starvation," the survey report said.

On the other hand, it was discovered, pheasants prefer natural food plants. Ragweed was present in more pheasant tests than any other food. Grasshoppers were a pheasant delicacy too.

Sequoias Defeat Richmond, 34-29

In their first official game of the season the Antioch Sequoias defeated Richmond High school 34-29 before a capacity crowd at the local gymnasium Tuesday night.

The first half was played in a bang-up fashion with each team not showing much team work or former experience. The half ended with Richmond on the long end of a 13-11 score.

The second half featured Antioch playing a slow, deliberate game, working the ball around until they had a good shot. Richmond was on defense most of the second half and scored only 16 points to Antioch's 23. High scorer of the game was Thompson of Antioch who showed remarkable ability to make long shots by swishing the net for 3 goals, besides 6 other points making his total 12 points.

In the preliminary game the Antioch "lights" also defeated Richmond 25-15.

Bob Hunt was the high scorer with 10 points closely followed by Carpenter with 8 points, both Antioch players. Scoreboard "Oke"

The new scoreboard presented to the school by the "class of 1940" immediately won the approval of all the spectators. The scoreboard is 8 1/2 feet long and 6 feet tall. It has a large clock mounted on the top. When there is 1 minute to play the face of the clock turns red and stays red until the quarter is over. The timing is all automatic—as well as siren. This is one of the most modern of the scoreboards and is recommended by many officials.

Bahai Group Postpones Meeting Date to Nov. 28

The Antioch-Bristol Bahai group announces that the series of discussions on "The Goal of a New World Order" which were to have started this past Tuesday evening will begin instead on Tuesday, November 28 at 8:30 o'clock. The discussions will be held in the Matthissen home on Highway "Q." To get there from Antioch, the following directions are given: "Take the State Line road east to the first cross road or Deep Lake road, then turn left and follow to next cross road, which is Highway "Q"; turn left on Highway "Q" and the Matthissen home is the first house on the right side of the road."

The public is invited to attend the meetings, it is announced. A social hour follows these discussions. Last Sunday, Mrs. A. F. Matthissen of Bristol, spoke at the Bahai Temple in Wilmette on the subject of "The Greatest Event in Human History."

In beginning her talk, Mrs. Matthissen pointed out that "history shows clearly that the leading factor in human progress is the advent from time to time of men such as the pioneer, the inventor, the genius and the Prophet, whose ideas pass beyond the ideas of their day, and they become discoverers of truths as yet unknown to the world. In the world of science, art and music there are abundant illustrations of this truth but in no domain is the supreme importance of the great man and his message more clearly evident than in that of religion."

Bird in Hand. Otis Clark was pitching to batting practice in a pregame warmup at Norman, Okla. He stuck his glove in the air to catch a high return. The ball bounced out of his glove but he caught a bird that was flying after the ball, apparently chasing it.

Lake Villa School News

The card party and dance sponsored by the P. T. A. on Friday evening of last week was a grand success. The committee wishes to thank not only those who contributed so generously with their time and effort, but also those who contributed food and prizes. It was gratifying to have such a large attendance from outlying communities as well as from Lake Villa.
